DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to Applicant's RCE, filed on 10/04/2005.
2. Claims 1-12 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

4. Claims 1, 3, 4, 5, 7 and 8-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Foster in view of Ellis US 2002/0095374 A1.

As per claims 1, 3, 4, 5, 7 and 8-12 Foster substantially discloses a financial transaction system such that Applicants' step of providing a secured network that stores consumer data and approved vendor information, Applicants' step of receiving transaction information at the secured network, and Applicants' step of processing the transaction information to determine whether the transaction information conforms with the stored consumer data and approved vendor information reads on col 8, lines 19-28, and applicants' step of delivering the stored consumer data to the vendor if the transaction information is determined to conform with the stored consumer data and approved vendor information reads on the message to the merchant, from the system, of the cardholder's shipping address, col 8, lines 47-50.

Foster fails to explicitly disclose Applicant's newly added limitation wherein said receipt of the stored consumer data by the vendor enables the vendor to receive payment for the e-commerce transaction. However, Ellis discloses a fulfillment resulting in providing the consumer with an activation code to enable a good or activate a service. The activation code may be indicated the receipt provided to the consumer. The fulfillment may include notifying the vendor that appropriate payment has been received based on the consumer receipt. Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the financial transaction of Foster by including the limitation detailed above as taught by Ellis because this would confirm identity of the consumer or to otherwise reduce unauthorized use.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 2 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Foster in view of Weber et al (U.S. Pat. No. 6,178,409).

Although Foster does not explicitly disclose the use of a VPN, Weber discloses a virtual private network between a gateway and a host processor that is established to expedite host communication (see., col 91, lines 50-61). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the system of foster to utilize a virtual private network as VPN is known to provide greater security when performing transactions.
